Indiana Linux Fest

It's been a while since we've posted anything, but rest assured we have been busy. We hosted the Lockpicking village at Indiana Linux Fest this month. Also with us was Bloominglabs making up the Hackerspace Village in the same room. We had a blast, lots of locks were picked, much hardware was hacked. Here are some pictures from the ILF village area: http://www.flickr.com/photos/bloominglabs/6936539884/in/photostream
